Cell biology (also called cytology, from the Greek κύτταλο, kytos, "vessel") is a branch of biology that studies the structure and function of the cell, which is the basic unit of life. Cell biology is concerned with the physiological properties, metabolic processes, signaling pathways, life cycle, chemical composition and interactions of the cell with their environment.

Classroom Lessons. Bug Blitz - A Study in Biodiversity (T. Tomm, Havana Junior High, Havana, IL) In past years our district had money for field trips to local nature areas for the Butterfly Brigade project; however, budget cuts made it difficult to pay for transportation. I decided to adapt the project to a smaller level using our school garden, which is a quick walk to our front schoolyard!

I. Introduction. Starch is the major component of human diet and is also used for many food and nonfood/industrial applications (Gaillard, 1987, FAO, 2006a). A significant quantity of starch is further processed by subjecting it to various forms of chemical and physical modifications, resulting in starches with even greater functionality attributes (Zobel, 1992).

Chapter 5 Starch Gelatinization - ScienceDirect

This chapter addresses the universals in the content and structure of values, concentrating on the theoretical advances and empirical tests in 20 countries, and its four basic issues: substantive contents of human values; identification of comprehensive set of values; extent to which the meaning of particular values was equivalent for different groups of people; and how the relations among ...
