The American Cancer Society FluFIT program is intended to assist medical practices in increasing colorectal cancer (CRC) screening. It has been demonstrated in the medical literature that offering and providing take-home fecal occult blood tests (FOBTs) or fecal immunochemical tests (FITs) to patients at the time of their annual flu shot increases CRC screening rates.

Running is a method of terrestrial locomotion allowing humans and other animals to move rapidly on foot. Running is a type of gait characterized by an aerial phase in which all feet are above the ground (though there are exceptions). This is in contrast to walking, where one foot is always in contact with the ground, the legs are kept mostly straight and the center of gravity vaults over the ...
