2019 Dixie Crow Symposium Details

White flight is a term that originated in the United States, starting in the 1950s and 1960s, and applied to the large-scale migration of people of various European ancestries from racially mixed urban regions to more racially homogeneous suburban or exurban regions. The term has more recently been applied to other migrations by whites, from older, inner suburbs to rural areas, as well as from ...

A crow's nest is a structure in the upper part of the main mast of a ship or a structure that is used as a lookout point.. This position ensured the best view for lookouts to spot approaching hazards, other ships, or land. It was the best device for this purpose until the invention of radar.. In the early 19th century, it was simply a barrel or a basket lashed to the tallest mast.
